STEPS in Senior Care

This guide is designed to help you quickly and accurately plan for what may lie ahead. The Resource Guide is divided into two parts ~ Steps and Services. The first steps you'll need to consider begin right here . . .

Step 1: Looking at Legal and Health Issues

Caregiving descends upon us in many ways ~ through sudden crises or a series of small but unsettling mishaps and warning signs. You may be the only person to step in or you may be part of a large network of family members and friends willing to help. Whatever the situation, you may not be sure of the next step. Or even the first step. You may be in the middle of a crisis and decisions have to be made quickly or if you are planning ahead the following questions, suggestions and information may be helpful in a variety of ways.

Does your loved one need help? Below are some warning signs:
Check the boxes that apply

- Difficulty concentrating / poor judgment
- Difficulty walking -- unsteady when standing -- recent fall(s)
- Diminished driving skills -- recent accidents -- near misses
- Loss of appetite -- changes in eating / cooking habits
- Loss of interest in activities once enjoyed
- Memory loss -- forgetfulness -- confusion -- inability to complete tasks
- Mishandled medication(s)
- Persistent fatigue -- lack of energy
- Personality changes -- irritability -- sudden mood changes
- Poor grooming and personal hygiene -- soiled clothing
- Poor housekeeping / home maintenance -- unsafe conditions
- Reluctance to socialize
- Spoiled or outdated food in fridge -- little nutritious food in home
- Unopened mail -- past due bills -- mishandled finances

Now that you know some of the warning signs you may have other concerns as well ~ take a minute and jot down your answers to the following 'first step' questions:

First Questions To Ask And Answer

1. What specific kind of help does your loved one need? _____
2. Who will be financially responsible for their care? _____
3. How much time do you personally have to give? _____
4. Who will be legally responsible? _____
5. Who is the actual decision maker? _____
6. What kind of medical needs do they have? _____
7. Describe the type of day your loved one routinely has? _____
8. Are the problems undiagnosed but correctable? _____
9. If your loved one's problems are not correctable, what living arrangements and Care plans are most appropriate? _____
10. If they are able to remain in their own home, how will you determine what type of in-home care to arrange? _____
11. Are there transportation issues? _____
12. Is assisted living preferred / possible over aging-in-place? _____
13. What particular challenges does your loved one's disability pose?

14. What do you need to know to access community resources? _____
15. How will you manage it all ~ and still maintain a life of your own? _____

The next step is collecting and organizing important information ~ this will be an invaluable step over time. It takes a little time and organization to complete this step, but you'll be glad that you have it where you can find it when you need it.

Information That You Will Need About Your Loved One

1. Senior's date of birth and Social Security number
 - a. You will need this information to access many services
2. Collect information about medical providers
 - a. If you haven't done so already, gather details about your loved one's physicians and health insurance
3. Names, phone numbers and addresses of the senior's medical professionals
 - a. Doctors, Dentist and Pharmacy (be sure to include complete details about any arrangements the senior has made for discount prescriptions)
4. Copies of health insurance policies and the front and back of all insurance cards. If your loved one is 65 or older, you will need a copy of their Medicare card
5. Make a list of all medications:
 - a. Prescription drugs and over-the-counter drugs (such as aspirin, antacids, herbal remedies, nutritional supplements ~ even daily multi-vitamins)

- b. Include dosage amounts and instructions for taking them (time of day, with food or between meals, etc.) Take this list with you to ALL of your loved one's medical appointments to help avoid dangerous prescription drug interactions
 - c. Date and results of recent medical tests such as x-rays, CT scans and MRI's, dental, hearing and eye tests, etc.
6. Complete health history
 - a. Be sure to take this with you to all of your loved one's medical appointments
 - b. Include major illness and medical conditions for your loved one's parents, brothers and sisters
 7. Learn as much as possible about the medical conditions of the senior
 - a. Talk to his or her doctors about any concerns
 - b. Discuss with the physician symptoms and progression of the disease to anticipate what might come next
 8. With your loved one's approval, consider calling a family meeting
 - a. Try to involve trusted family members early in the process. Early input from them will facilitate communication and decision-making down the line
 - b. Allow all family members a chance to express themselves and their feelings
 - c. When possible, designate a person to be responsible for each task - set goals
 9. Be respectful of the older adult ~ always ask for their consent, opinion, preferences and ideas ~ this is about them and about their life

Legal Issues and Tools

First Task ~ Organize Papers

Legal issues relating to care planning are divided into two categories:

1. Healthcare
2. Financial

Healthcare ~ Important documents to look for:

1. Advance Health Care Directive
2. Power of Attorney for Health Care
3. Living Will
4. Directive to Physicians
5. HIPAA Authorization (means "Health Inurance Portability and Accountability Act")
6. POLST (means "Physician Orders for Life Sustaining Treatment")

Financial ~ Look for papers relating to property and financial matters:

1. Trusts
2. Wills
3. Power of Attorney for Finances

4. Deeds or Certificates of Ownership for Property
5. Annuities
6. Life Insurance
7. Long-Term Care Insurance Policies
8. Retirement Accounts/ Benefits (IRA, 401k, 403b, Pensions)
9. Veterans Benefits
10. Most recent statements from bank, credit union, investments.

Next, consider consulting with a qualified attorney to review these papers. DO NOT WAIT FOR A MEDICAL CRISIS to consult with an attorney. The person signing new documents must have legal capacity to understand what they are signing.

Second Task ~ Choose An Attorney

Sometimes the best choice is the original attorney who prepared the papers. If you have confidence in that person, this is an obvious choice.

However, sometimes clients lose touch with the attorney or feel that they need someone more familiar with their current life issues.

Finding An Elder Law Attorney

The attorney who practices Elder Law or Special Needs Law works primarily with people as they age and people with disabilities. Using a holistic approach, the attorney will address general estate planning issues and will counsel clients about planning for incapacity and possible long-term care needs. The attorney will review documents to be sure they properly coordinate private and public resources to finance the cost of quality care. The attorney may also have useful suggestions for support services in your area. You can locate an elder law attorney through:

1. NAELA

National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys' website at www.naela.org. On the NAELA homepage, you will find a link that will help you locate an elder law attorney near you.

2. For additional information go to the Attorney / Elder Law section on pages 27-28

Third Task ~ Get Ready For The Attorney Visit

Here are a few tips as you prepare. (Each attorney has a slightly different approach):

1. Make a list: Discuss with your spouse, partner, or those helping you the questions that are on your mind. Write them down
2. Think about your care managers: If you were unable to manage your finances and health care, who would you choose for those important jobs? Do you have alternates in mind? Would they agree to serve?
3. Are there doubts about the present ability of the client to understand and sign documents? If so, mention this to the attorney right away!
4. If the client has a serious, chronic or terminal illness, or if there is some other urgency advise the attorney immediately!
5. When you make the appointment, ask the attorney these questions:
 - Does the attorney offer a no-charge first visit?
 - What documents should you bring to the meeting?
 - Should you complete a questionnaire first?
 - Will the attorney want to meet privately with the client?
 - Are family members welcome? Are designated trustees or health care agents welcome?
 - If the attorney accepts the case, what are the fees and costs? When will the client receive the legal services agreement for review? (In most cases, attorneys are required to have a written agreement for any legal work. It must be signed by both client and attorney)

Advance Care Planning Basics

1. Every adult needs an Advance Healthcare Directive:

- * To name your choice of person(s) to make your health care decisions when you can no longer communicate;
- * To tell those caring for you what kind of health care you want/don't want;
- * To tell everyone caring for you how you feel about life support;
- * To make special requests about the people or things important to you when you are ill (friends, music, clergy, pets, poetry, scripture, etc.);
- * To tell everyone where you want to live in your final days;
- * To make choices about organ donation, cremation, burial;
- * To tell everyone how you want to be remembered

2. Complete a POLST with your doctor's help if you presently have a serious life-threatening or terminal illness. Physician Orders for Life Sustaining Treatment forms are detailed doctor's orders which reflect your choices about life support options or resuscitation. These orders are kept in your medical chart. The law requires doctors, emergency medical responders, and healthcare workers to honor these detailed choices. Similar documents are often called DNR (Do Not Resuscitate).

3. Make sure that your Hospital has a copy of your Advance Directive / POLST, that your healthcare agent knows your wishes and has a copy, and that you keep a copy (wallet, glove compartment, etc.) in case of emergency.

Medical Privacy and HIPAA

The Health Information Portability and Accountability Act ~ 1996 (HIPAA) is intended to safeguard an individual's health information.

A HIPAA release is a document signed and dated by you to authorize use and disclosure of protected health information for reasons other than treatment, payment or health care operations. An authorization must contain a description of the protected health information, the names of persons permitted to make a disclosure, the names of persons to whom the covered entity may disclose, an expiration date or event, an explanation of the individual's right to revoke, how to revoke, and a statement about potential re-disclosures.

Your doctor and other medical professionals are required by law to protect your medical privacy. This is why you are often asked to sign a form stating that you have received the provider's Privacy Statement.

IMPORTANT: The form often includes an authorization giving permission to share your medical information with other health care providers, your spouse or other persons you designate. Consider who else you want to be included in your medical care information.

Don't wait until a medical emergency to sign an Advance Health Care Directive. Every time you visit a doctor, hospital, medical lab, etc., give them a copy of your Advance Health Care Directive and ask to sign the provider's HIPAA form stating who can receive information on your care.

Types Of Medical Care As You Age

Annual Wellness Visit is scheduled with your primary care physician. This visit is paid for by Medicare and it gives both you and your physician a chance to catch up on your healthcare concerns, needs, mental health status, tests that need to be run, lab work, etc. This is a good time to ask questions or talk about a specialist if needed.

Home Health care can only be provided by licensed health workers, such as skilled nursing care, physical therapy rehabilitation or other in-home services for the treatment of an illness or injury and is typically (though not necessarily) initiated by a physician. Medicare may pay for some home health care, but only if you meet certain qualifications and conditions. Keep in mind that Home Health is not the same as In-Home Care and In-Home Care is rarely covered by insurance. Check with your insurance company or physician for more information.

Palliative Care addresses the needs of patients struggling with chronic and / or life threatening illnesses and may occur in the hospital, home, or a skilled nursing setting. Comfort and quality of life, sometimes combined with curative treatment, are the focus of care.

Hospice Care is for individuals who are approaching end of life and are no longer seeking a cure or curative treatments. The focus of their treatment is comfort and quality of life for their remaining days. Hospice and Palliative care are both team-oriented groups consisting of specially trained professionals, volunteers and family members, and may occur in a variety of settings, including home, board and care, and skilled nursing facilities. Your physician prescribes Hospice care and Medicare covers this benefit. Typically you may choose one of the referrals your physician suggests or your own Hospice choice.

Insurance Plans ~ It's a good idea to begin looking at what type of Medicare or MediCal coverage is best too. Always consider prescription coverage and skilled nursing co-pay options. Dementia care insurance is another consideration too. (see page 41 for more information)

New Technologies In Healthcare

1. Neuro Rehab VR provides a virtual reality PT experience for older patients undergoing physical therapy following a stroke, brain injury or spinal cord injury or who suffer from neurodegenerative diseases. The customized virtual therapy exercises record physiological and kinematic responses quantifying the progress of the patient with scores and metrics over time.

2. Learn more about TeleHealth / TeleMedicine – pros and cons, how it is transforming healthcare and how to become comfortable with it too.
<https://www.mayoclinic.org/healthy-lifestyle/consumer-health/in-depth/telehealth/art-20044878>
3. Labs in your toilet? Yep – Toi Labs has turned the toilet into a source of valuable health information with a toilet seat called TrueLoo that reveals information such as dehydration, Urinary Tract Infections, certain diseases i.e., Clostridium, the Norovirus, etc., that could lead to hospitalization.
<https://www.toilabs.com/>
4. The watch (called VitalBand) not only provides emergency call-out and fall-detection, but also tracks vital signs like heart and respiratory rate and oxygen saturation, as well as physical activity and sleep quality and medication reminders. Family members can view their loved one's streaming vitals, historical readings, manage fall alerts, edit profile information and view nutritional information.

Meet with a Doctor

What Is A Geriatrician and Why Should You See One?

What type of doctor do you need? A Geriatrician (jer-ee-uh-trish-uhn) is a physician who is specifically trained to evaluate and manage the unique health care needs and treatment preferences of older adults. The types of conditions older adults have and how those conditions interact with each other differs from what adults under the age of 60 typically experience. Geriatricians are Board Certified with the American Medical Association and understand the unique physical and emotional health problems associated with aging. (See a listing of Geriatricians on page 37-38.)

Geriatricians look beyond the medical problems to see their impact on a patient's overall well-being. They understand that health care involves not only medical examinations but also mental, spiritual, functional and social wellbeing.

Having a proper diagnosis is important in understanding what is needed to help older adults maintain their good health, improve their health with specialized care, and receive the care they need to age in place or to live a quality life in a supportive community.

A visit to the doctor's office can be stressful and intimidating but there are steps you can take to make the most out of your doctor's visit. Write down and keep track of symptoms or changes in health, mood, and physical and mental abilities.

Getting The Most Out Of Your Doctor Visit

A doctor's visit can be stressful. You may forget some of the things you wanted to talk to them about. So it's important to plan ahead for your visit. If you can take someone with you to your doctor's visit, consider doing so ~ it is often difficult to remember everything the physician tells or asks a patient to do.

Preparing For A Doctor's Visit

Write down your questions and bring them to your office visit. Ask the most important questions first and make sure you get answers to your top two or three concerns. Before your visit, write your list of symptoms and details, and what they were like when they first started.

1. If you have diabetes or hypertension, bring your home-monitoring records;
2. Bring all your medications, including herbals, supplements and vitamins. If you can't bring the medications, be sure and bring an up-to-date list of medications and supplements. Keep this list handy;
3. Consider taping your visit or bring a health care folder or notebook to write down the doctor's responses to your questions and her/his advice about treatment and other information for follow-up;
4. If you feel you need support in communicating with the doctor, in remembering information, or if you have a complicated health problem, it's a good idea to have a friend or relative accompany you to be your advocate and to help you remember information;
5. Ask the doctor to write down her / his responses to your questions;
6. Feel free to ask questions about your medications ~ make sure you understand the medication's purpose ~ also ask if this is a generic or a brand name medication; (See page 51 for low-cost medication options)
7. Let the doctor know if you do not understand anything being said;
8. Before you leave the office, make sure that you understand your condition, treatments options, and medications. Know when you need to meet the goals prescribed by your doctor and when you need to follow up with the next visit;
9. After the visit, be sure to follow through with the treatment plan you discussed with your physician.
10. See page 37-38 for Geriatrician suggestions

Step 2: Consider Your Housing Options

Types and Costs of In-Home Care

How Much Will It Cost?

Not surprisingly, the cost of all types of care has steadily risen over the years ~ from homemaker services to nursing home care. Rates of care vary and over the next few years rates for care will rise significantly. The best estimate for care costs can be found on The Genworth Cost of Care Study (2019):

(<https://www.genworth.com/aging-and-you/finances/cost-of-care.html>)

Rates listed below are average Orange County, California rates ~ you may find some services that are higher depending on need and other variables.

- Personal Caregiver / Companion $28 OC Average Hourly Rate
- Caregivers / Home Health Aide $28 OC Average Hourly Rate
- Adult Day Health Care (ADHC) $77 OC Average Daily Rate
- Assisted Living Facility (ALF) $4,500+ OC Monthly Rate
- Memory Care Facility $5,500+ OC Monthly Rate
- Nursing Home Care (SNF) $288-$350+ OC Average Daily Rate

It's important to know what type of care that your loved one needs. On the following page are types of in-home care to consider and inquire about, as well as descriptions of typical caregiver responsibilities.

1. Personal Caregiver / Companion
 - Provide friendly companionship
 - May also be a 'Hospital Sitter' or for Respite Care in some cases
 - Assists with light housework, meals, shopping, laundry, errands, etc.
 - No coverage by most health insurance policies
2. Caregivers / Home Health Aide Services
 - Assist with personal needs such as activities of daily living, bathing, feeding, some bedside care, etc.
 - May also assist with transportation to doctors and therapy appointments
 - May perform errands such as food shopping, picking up prescriptions
 - May help with meal preparation and light housekeeping
 - Provide medication reminders ~ no skilled nursing tasks or dispensing medication
 - Usually not covered by most health insurance policies – check with your insurance carrier
3. Registered Nurse (RN) Or Licensed Vocational Nurse (LVN)
 - For specific acute and immediate licensed nursing care (i.e., trach care, IV's, etc.)

- For insurance reimbursement you must have a doctor's order and show written documentation of procedure which could only be performed by an R.N. or L.V.N. on a continuous basis

IMPORTANT ~ Caregivers as Independent Contractors and Private Pay:

Please do not assume that you can classify a private caregiver as an independent contractor. In most cases state law classifies caregivers as employees. If you are planning to hire a caregiver privately consult with an attorney or CPA. There are legal requirements to hiring private caregiver employees. Among them are Social Security benefits, Unemployment Insurance, Workman's Compensation and other costs. Be aware of your legal responsibilities. See page 43 for information on in-home care agencies.

Questions To Ask

When Interviewing Potential Caregiver Agencies

1. Is the company independently owned, a corporation, or a franchise?
2. How many years have they been in business? Where is the local office?
3. Is it possible to have a consistent caregiver each time?
4. Does management have any healthcare experience or background?
5. What is the agencies' hourly rate? What is the minimum number of hours?
6. How much advance notice is required to cancel a shift?
7. Are there any charges for over 8-hour shifts, weekends or holidays?
8. How does the agency bill? Do they require a deposit? (Keep your receipts!)
9. How will they plan coverage if the caregiver is not able to work that shift?
10. Will the caregiver provide transportation for the patient? Will the caregiver use their own car or the patient's? How is gas paid for? Whose auto insurance is used?
11. How do they hire and evaluate their employees? Can caregivers be interviewed? What specific trainings do your caregivers get? How often?
12. Are the caregivers employees of the agency? Is Worker's Compensation Coverage, payroll taxes and expenses covered by the agency?
13. Are references available from a previous employer or agency?
14. Are agency personnel available after-hours 24/7 for consultation?
15. Is the agency a VA Approved Provider or do they have experience working with veterans and/or the VA and VA benefit plans for home care?

Hiring Options for Home Care – Private Hire vs. Home Care Organizations

Option 1 – Private Hire: This means you alone become the employer responsible for screening and selection of caregivers. You are also responsible for tracking overtime, paying payroll taxes, issuing W-2 forms, unemployment insurance and providing workers compensation coverage. You also have to be prepared if a worker fails to report for work. You cannot avoid these responsibilities by simply calling your worker an “independent contractor”.

Option 2 – Home Care Organizations Provide Home Care Aides: California law sets standards for Home Care Organizations. Home Care Aides are employees of the Home Care Organization. The Home Care Company (not the senior or family) are responsible for complying with requirements such as TB testing, training, background check and registration. This relieves families of burdensome paperwork, liability, screening and training.

Types of Residential Settings

Aging in Place (In Your Own Residence) is something that many people consider doing for as long as possible. (See InfoBox on pages 16-17 for things to consider.) An important consideration is the older adult's safety, and anyone the senior may live with. Other considerations include finances, convenience, social supports and transportation.

Retirement Communities (or Senior Independent Living Communities) are designed to accommodate independent seniors who have few medical issues.

Continuing Care Retirement Communities (CCRC's) consists of independent living, assisted living and nursing home all on the same campus.

Assisted Living Communities (state licensed) combine housing, healthcare, meals, socialization and some assistance with personal care in an independent environment.

Residential Care Homes often referred to as a Board and Care (state licensed) provide care for seniors in a homelike setting that's very much like a family. This type of home varies considerably in both size and setting. The staff in a residential care home may set up and encourage medication compliance, help residents bathe / get dressed and other activities. Many Residential Care Homes also offer Memory Care and in-house Hospice care.

Memory Care Communities offer dementia care and/or Alzheimer's care. Alzheimer's care is often delivered in an assisted living or nursing home setting on a separate floor, unit, or building. These living environments have secured areas to prevent wandering.

Skilled Nursing Facilities (SNF) (also known as Nursing Home, Convalescent Hospital, Rehab Facility or Long Term Care) provide a high level of care for those who have significant deficiencies with everyday activities (i.e., activities of daily living / ADL's). Residents typically receive occupational, physical and other rehabilitative therapies after an accident, illness or hospitalization along with medical care. Sometimes patients live out their life there too.

Aging In Place Technology 101

New technology is giving older adults more confidence in their ability to live alone. There are devices to track medication and Alzheimer's wandering, activity — or inactivity — in the house, falls and real-time health information as well as computers designed with older adults in mind. "Smart" technology is making aging in place a viable and desirable option for many people.

"Smart" Technology for Aging in Place Seniors

1. MedMinder <https://www.medminder.com/>

What it is and How it works: A digital pill dispenser that looks like a regular seven-day model. Log onto the Web and remotely program the schedule and see if the user has complied. A prerecorded voice from, say, a grandchild, reminds Grandma to take her pills. If she doesn't, she gets a call, and a family member receives an email, text or call.

2. Reminder Rosie <http://www.lat.care/rosie>

What it is and How it works: A voice-activated talking clock that tells you to take your medicine at a certain time. A family member programs the clock (perhaps "I love you, Mom. It's time to take two blue pills and one yellow pill.").

3. GrandCare Systems <https://www.grandcare.com/about/>

What it is and How it works: A multipurpose system that tracks daily activity, has medical monitoring (glucose, oxygen, blood pressure, weight) and can display anything: diets, discharge plans, exercises. An interactive touch screen lets Dad watch videos, view family photos, listen to music, play games, read the news and video chat with family. System communicates with wireless sensors.

4. MobileHelp <https://www.mobilehelp.com/pages/smart>

What it is and How it works: PERS device with GPS tracking. Press the help button and after the response team seeks medical help, it calls and emails your family and tells them where you are, including the hospital. There is also a fall-detection system that gets help even if you're unable to push a button or talk.

5. Lively by GreatCall <https://www.greatcall.com/devices/lively-wearable-urgent-response-device>

What it is and How it works: It has six sensors that can be placed on pillboxes, the refrigerator, the microwave, the bathroom door and even on a key chain. Log onto a website to check activity, and info is captured via cellular connection, it remotely monitors medication compliance. The company can alert family by text, email, Web or phone if something is out of the ordinary.

Aging In Place ~ Things To Consider

1. Consider living in your own home if you have a relatively small one-story home, or if you can move downstairs (See page 16 for 'Smart Technology')
2. Install safety equipment such as grab bars, handrails, ramps, extra lighting, a security system, obtain a personal emergency response system if necessary, etc. (See pages 33, 40-41, 49)
3. Remove clutter (paper, boxes, old mail, catalogs, etc.) from closets, counters, etc. (See Page 40)
4. Remove minimally used / unnecessary items (i.e., books, clothing / shoes, old equipment, cookware, furniture, etc.) ~ if you haven't used it in a year ~ TOSS IT! (See Page 40)
5. Make sure items that are on shelves, drawers or cupboards are within easy reaching distance ~ avoid reaching more than 2-6 inches over head
6. Identify reliable low-cost and convenient transportation options (Pg 53-54)
7. Research the distance frequently used services (grocery store, drug store, doctors' offices, shopping mall, etc.) are from your home ~ close is better!
8. Consider financial issues ~ mortgage, medical costs, food, caregiver, etc.
9. Make sure all of your legal tools are current and in place (Trust / Will, Advance Directive, Power of Attorney's, etc.) (Pages 4-9)
10. How far is it to close friends and family members ~ avoid isolation!

Assisted Living / Memory Care – Options in Long-Term Care

When older adults can no longer live independently, family and caregivers are faced with the difficult decision of what type of care to select — because not all long-term care options are created equal. Two of the fastest-growing types of residential senior care are assisted living and memory care. But what are the differences between the two, and what are the most important factors?

According to the Assisted Living Federation of America, assisted living is defined as “a long-term care option that combines housing, support services and health care, as needed.” Personal care services in assisted living often include transportation, light housekeeping, meals, medication management, and care is available around the clock. Seniors in assisted living usually have the option of a private room or shared space in an apartment, depending on their preferences and budget. As older adults age, they may simply need a little extra help with everyday tasks, or they may require more specialized nursing care if they have age-related issues with mobility, or conditions such as dementia. Assisted living facilities vary in terms of what services they offer, but some of them do provide memory care services, usually in a dementia special care unit. Among other things, memory care units are typically locked to prevent wandering and often have a higher staff/patient ratio. Assisted living facilities are not federally regulated, but they should be licensed by the state they are located in.

What To Look For In An Assisted Living / Memory Care Facility

1. Bigger is not always better. Some residents with cognitive impairment may become over-stimulated in a large environment and may prefer a calmer, homelike setting such as a 6-Bed Residential Care Home.
2. Shared or Private Room? Studies show that a shared room / restroom is not only less expensive, but can be better for residents with dementia as some become more anxious when alone. Socialization and engagement should be a priority since that may help to enhance memory and avoid depression.
3. Observe the staff to see how they interact with residents (speak to residents by name, make good eye contact, walk with or gently touch residents, etc.). Observe other residents to see if you think they would be compatible with your loved one. A place that is perfect for one person may be completely wrong for someone else.
4. Don't be distracted by the décor. Fancy amenities are nice to look at but don't have a heart. Without competent, compassionate and experienced staff, none of that matters.
5. Expect an adjustment period. It takes time for a resident to get used to a new environment and it takes time for the staff to get to know their likes and dislikes as well.
6. Visit at different times of the day to get a better picture of care and the attentiveness of the staff. Observe meals, activities (variety, interaction and purpose for the activity).
7. Do your research or enlist the help of a professional who knows the history and reputation of care facilities in your area. At the same time, trust your own gut feelings. Nobody knows your loved one like you and your family.
8. For information on a placement specialist in your area please see pgs 26-27.

Step 3: Community Resources and Information

Community Resources, Housing, and Nutritional Needs

1. Take a crash course in community resources:
 - a. Find out about senior centers (see page 52-53) and adult day health services (see page 26) in the senior's living area ~ what kind of care do they offer, transportation (see pages 53-54), etc.
 - b. What are the some of the best in-home care agencies around? (See page 13-15 and 43 for suggestions.) What meal delivery (see page 44) and Friendly Visitor (see page 36) support options are available? Are they a Veteran (see pages 54-56)?
 - c. Assess the senior's balance and mobility gaps and skills (pages 33-34) and determine needs/resources

2. Even if this is an acute crisis that is likely to pass, start gathering information about assisted living facilities and other long-term care options. You will want to be able to offer the senior a range of options to choose from.
3. If your loved one lives in an assisted living facility at some distance from you, one of your concerns will be replenishing your loved one's health care supplies at a reasonable price. While you can hire a personal shopper, it may be less expensive and just as reliable for you to shop online and have the supplies delivered to your loved one.
4. Consider hiring a Geriatric Care Manager or using a Placement Specialist
 - a. These professionals are trained to quickly assess the overall situation, make recommendations about needed services and, if necessary, coordinate community resources (see pages 26-27, and 28-29) for more information / suggestions
5. Other Community Resources to consider are brain and mental health help (pages 45-48), or social media like FaceBook or Iris OC (<https://iris-oc.com/>) that provide information on local events, activities connecting people to options

Talk To And Consult With . . .

1. Consult with and
 - a. Talk to trusted friends, neighbors, acquaintances ~ anyone with experience in caring for an elder
 - b. Assemble a mosaic of information about how to proceed and what to expect down the line. You will learn that others have been there before and found their way through ~ though sometimes with great difficulty and sadness. You can learn from them.
2. Talk with the older adult in your family and
 - a. Allow them as much independence as circumstances permit
 - b. Remember that the caregiver's role is to help them maintain as much control over their lives as feasible, not to take it away
 - c. Allow them to make their own decisions unless the decisions become harmful to them. The more you consult with your loved one, consider their desires and truly respect them, the better the outcomes and the smoother the transition in your relationship is
 - d. Make sure that everyone on the caregiving team ~ whether they are family members, friends or professionals ~ has the information they need to perform their responsibilities
 - e. Make a list of emergency numbers, family contact numbers and other items and distribute it to those who might need it
 - f. Family members should know how to locate legal, financial and medical documents like durable powers of attorney, trusts / wills
 - g. Investment account statements and health insurance policies and where they're located
3. If the senior is still living at home, make sure you and others in their inner circle have keys to the residence in case of emergency

4. Keep good notes

- a. Whenever you talk to a doctor, lawyer, insurance company, service agency, government office or advocacy organization, write down the date and the name of the person you spoke with, contact information and the substance of the conversation
- b. Keep separate files for different areas of concern ~ financial topics, medical affairs, real estate, vehicles, insurance, etc.

Even though this may sound unnecessarily pessimistic, never assume that the professional and medical personnel who are helping you with your loved one will do what they promise. If you don't actively follow-up, you may set yourself up for disappointment. These professionals are extremely busy and have other people to care for in addition to your loved one. Bottom Line ~ stay involved for maximum benefit.

5. Help the older adult in your life become more comfortable with technology in general. Reduce the stigma and anxiety that they may feel. Check out the Technology websites that are listed throughout this Resource Guide (see pages 11, 16, 21, 31, 39 and 51) and the inside back cover of the Resource Guide for more technology suggestions. You can make both their life and your own life easier if you do!

6. Acknowledge your own feelings of loss, anger, shock and confusion. Perhaps you realized this moment was coming, perhaps not. In any event, you are likely to find unsettling emotions bubbling through the surface. Allow yourself time to experience those feelings. Take care of yourself!

Disaster Preparedness

Older adults need to feel empowered to take some simple steps to prepare for and respond to potential emergencies, including natural disasters and outages. Simple steps to take and review twice a year include:

5 Disaster Preparedness Steps to Take

1. Keep emergency medication, contact numbers and ID handy at all times
2. Store 3 days supply of food, water, first aid kit, flashlight, battery operated radio, whistle, wind-up clock and extra cash (not credit cards)
3. Have garbage bags and ties, and moist towelettes for personal sanitation
4. Test smoke alarms bi-annually (i.e., June 1st / December 1st)
5. In an emergency, take cover, stay indoors and know your evacuation plan

Elder Abuse In The Age of Electronics and Technology

Protect Your Electronics and Your Online Identity

1. Here's how to protect the hardware on your computer:
 - If your files are not encrypted someone can access them. Windows and Apple offer automatic encryption that needs to simply be turned on. Below are the links that will walk you through how to turn it on:
 - Apple: <https://support.apple.com/en-us/HT204837>
 - Windows: <https://www.howtogeek.com/192894/how-to-set-up-bitlocker-encryption-on-windows/>
2. Password Protection
 - Create strong passwords and never use the same password on different sites – it's pretty easy if you use a Password Manager
 - Password Managers encrypt your passwords to make sure your passwords are not known to others by inserting passwords for you automatically which helps to keep you from writing down passwords or using the same one repeatedly. Here are a two you can try for a small monthly fee:
 - 1Password <https://1password.com/>
 - Last Pass <https://www.lastpass.com/>
3. Protect your email and other accounts with two-factor authentication
 - When you or anyone tries to sign-in to an account, they will go through a second layer of security: a code that will be received via text or email
4. Review your accounts regularly
 - Check your bank and credit card statements carefully. If you notice any suspicious activity, call your bank right away – particularly small charges that you may not initially recognize!
 - Set up fraud alerts that notify you with suspicious purchases
 - Keep an eye out for data breaches of banks, retailers, credit agencies, etc., so you can act quickly to protect your information
5. Check your credit report
 - Take a free look at your credit report once a year from each national credit bureau (Equifax, Experian, TransUnion)
6. Consider identity theft protection
 - Identity theft protection helps you get back on track if you have been a victim of identity theft. This kind of insurance can help you financially recover while receiving support contacting the appropriate entities.

Elder Abuse is the fastest growing and least reported form of abuse in Orange County. Remember that the most common forms of abuse are financial, which includes cyber scams. Emergency Phone Calls

10 Tips on How to Make an Effective 9-1-1 Call

Since 9-1-1 is for emergencies only, it helps to understand when to call and when not to call. An emergency is any serious situation where a law enforcement officer, fire fighter, or emergency medical help is needed right away. If you have to make such a call, please consider these tips:

1. Try to remain calm. Breathe. This helps both you and the dispatcher.
2. Is someone hurt or in danger? Which do you need - fire department, police or ambulance? Identify yourself and the individual who needs 9-1-1. Give descriptions like age, gender, height/weight, and medical condition.
3. Know your location. State your name and address clearly.
4. Be aware of your surroundings so you can describe where things are at.
5. Don't hang up. Stay on the line ~ the dispatcher needs to keep in contact.
6. Let the 9-1-1 dispatcher guide the conversation, be patient and follow all directions. You're in good hands ~ ask for clarification if you need it.
7. Have a list of medications prepared. Consider including other documents such as an Advance Directive, POLST, emergency contacts, or allergies.
8. Help emergency responders locate and gain access to your residence:
 - ✓ Consider a "hide-a-key" or a lock box with a key inside. Contact your local fire department so they can enter the code into their database to transmit to paramedics if they're unable to unlock the door.
 - ✓ Ensure proper lighting on the exterior of your home. Make sure your address has large numbers visible from the street.
 - ✓ Remove any barriers or hazards that would prevent safe access while carrying equipment or stretcher.
9. What to expect when help arrives:
 - Paramedics will ask questions while assessing the patient's vital signs to understand the patient's current condition and the patient's mental status.
 - ✓ Paramedics are trained to know what each hospital does best. They may go to a hospital that specializes in the patient's condition, rather than the nearest hospital. Be receptive and trust their judgment.
 - ✓ Depending upon the local department, you may be allowed to ride inside the ambulance with the patient.
 - ✓ Being transported by ambulance is no guarantee you will be seen faster, you may stay in the emergency waiting room. Patients are seen by need.
10. Did you know:
 - ✓ The fire department can conduct a 'Back-to-Bed' call to help someone who has fallen down and needs help getting up. Let 9-1-1 know your need.
 - ✓ Some local community fire departments have a program that allows you 'Back-to-Bed' calls for a designated number of times and a nominal annual fee. Check with your local fire department for more information.
 - ✓ If you need a ride to the hospital and it is not life threatening, call an ambulance company and request a non-emergency ride to the hospital.

Hearing Aid Technology Makes A BIG Difference

The right hearing aids can totally change your life! Hearing aids have four basic parts: 1) Microphone; 2) Processor; 3) Receiver; and 4) Power Source (battery) and can be considered either basic or advanced based on the sophistication of the processor. Even today's basic digital hearing aids offer far more benefit than the best hearing aids of previous generations. Speak to an insurance agent/broker to see how it can be a covered benefit! (Pages 43-44).

Basic Hearing Aid Technology Can Include:

- Data logging – stores data for your listening preferences, volume, etc.
- Digital Noise Reduction
- Directional Microphone Systems
- Feedback Management Systems
- FM Compatibility improves the frequency to noise ratio
- Impulse Noise Reduction
- Telecoil – eliminates the potential for feedback
- Wind Noise Reduction

Advanced Hearing Aid Technology Can Include:

- Artificial Intelligence (AI) learns your hearing likings for volume, etc.
- Binaural Processing mimics the brain's ability to process information
- Bluetooth helps to improve the signal-to-noise ratio and end feedback
- Rechargeable Batteries
- Tinnitus Masking Features
- Top of the line sound processing and frequency response coming from both ears and helps reduce manual adjustments

3 Ways Hearing Loss Impacts Memory Loss

Most people view ailments like hearing loss, failing memory and dementia as normal consequences of aging. There is a growing body of research that shows hearing loss can lead to conditions like dementia. Hearing aids can help protect brain health and ward off cognitive decline. Don't let your hearing loss affect your memory! (see pages 39-40 for Hearing Aid information) <http://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/10.1111/jgs.13649/full>

1. Stress – When you strain to hear your brain experiences cognitive overload. The more severe your hearing loss, the more resources your brain has to divert from other tasks to help you understand - and that creates stress.
2. Isolation – When you have to work extra hard to hear, you tend to start isolating yourself. You get tired of asking, “What?” Prolonged social isolation leads to depression and changes in the brain and memory loss.
3. Too much quiet time – When you isolate yourself your brain goes from having to work really hard to not working very much at all. As areas of your brain go unused, they shrink or get taken over for other duties.

Memory Assessment ~ What's 'Normal'?

Have you ever misplaced your keys, forgotten a phone number or drawn a blank when trying to recall someone's name? For some people, this type of forgetfulness is a normal part of aging and generally not a cause for concern. When memory loss becomes disabling or interferes with daily living, it may be a warning sign of something more.

Recognizing the Early Signs of Memory Loss Problems

A memory assessment should be sought if you notice an older adult:

1. Displays confusion with time or place
2. Exhibits challenges in planning or problem solving
3. Experiencing memory changes that disrupt daily life
4. Has difficulty completing familiar tasks (i.e. gets lost driving to a local store)
5. Has trouble understanding visual images and spatial relationships
6. Hides memory loss to create an acceptable social image
7. Loses the ability to join in or actively contribute to conversations
8. Loses the ability to learn / retain new information or perform new tasks
9. Misplaces things and loses the ability to retrace steps
10. Withdraws from work or isolates from social activities

When to Call a Doctor

There are many possible causes for memory loss. It's important to identify and address the underlying cause. Symptoms of memory loss can be caused by a condition such as Alzheimer's disease, or by other conditions such as undetected small strokes. Other things that can contribute to memory loss include depression, anxiety, medication interactions, thyroid disorders, sleep problems, dehydration, and vitamin deficiencies.

Each type of dementia or medical condition requires its own treatment approach. Please contact your physician if you have concerns or schedule an appointment at any one of the Memory Assessment programs in Orange County ~ learn more. Page 45

Suicide Among Older Adults

Notably, suicide is particularly high among older, white males. In fact, the rate of suicide in the oldest group of white males (ages 85+) is over four times higher than the nation's overall rate of suicide and women commit suicide too.

Identifying Warning Signs For Suicide

A person who may be thinking about suicide likely does not want to die, but is in search of some way to make pain or suffering go away. Older people who attempt suicide are often more isolated, more likely to have a plan, and more determined than younger adults. Suicide attempts are more likely to end in death for older adults than younger adults, especially when attempted by men. Women typically use less lethal methods, but their depression is just as real. Use the checklist below if someone you know may be showing warning signs.

Risk Factors And Warning Signs

Suicidal warning signs in older adults may be linked to important risk factors:

- Access to lethal means (i.e. firearms, other weapons, etc.)
- Alcohol or medication misuse or abuse
- Daring or risk-taking behavior
- Depression
- Family discord or losses (i.e., recent death of a loved one)
- Feeling a loss of independence or a loss of sense of purpose
- Giving away prized possessions
- Impulsivity due to cognitive impairment
- Inflexible personality or marked difficulty adapting to change
- Marked feelings of hopelessness; lack of interest in future plans
- Medical conditions that significantly limit functioning or life expectancy
- Prior suicide attempts
- Social isolation
- Sudden personality changes
- Verbal suicide threats such as, "You'd be better off without me" or "Maybe I won't be around long."

Preventing Suicide

It is crucial that friends and family of older adults identify signs of suicidal thoughts and take appropriate follow-up actions to prevent them from acting on these thoughts. Suicidal thoughts are often a symptom of depression and should always be taken seriously. Keep in touch and keep following up.

1. Speak Up If You're Worried – Start a conversation – "Are you OK? I've been worried lately". Listen but DON'T argue, minimize or criticize.
2. Act Quickly In A Crisis - If someone you know has a suicide plan with intent to act, you should not leave them alone – call 9-1-1 or a mental health professional and make sure to stay with them until emergency services are in place. See pages 46 – 48 for more information
3. Offer Help and Support – "You're not alone – let's work together on this."

Purchasing Drugs From an Online Pharmacy

Current laws in the U.S. DISALLOW the foreign purchase of drugs for "personal importation" or "reimportation." This includes driving over the border to Canada or Mexico to buy the same, exact drug legally approved and licensed here.

Despite this legal barrier, many Americans are still willing to take the risk, particularly if it means not having to choose between the rent and getting the medications they may desperately need. To this end, here are four things you should know if you intend to buy a prescription drug from a foreign pharmacy.

1. Purchasing a drug from an online overseas pharmacy may save you money, but it can end up costing you more if the provider is disreputable. Having a good-looking website should never be considered a sign that a provider is either legitimate or trustworthy.
2. Even beyond the legitimacy of a provider, the FDA warns that certain brand names used abroad are not the same used in the U.S. In some cases, the non-active ingredients or even active ingredients may be completely different.
3. Whether purchasing online or in person, always check the label closely and never buy a product if the list of ingredients is not clearly displayed in a language you can fluently read.
4. Moreover, double-check the currency conversion rates before making a purchase to ensure you're actually saving money. This includes any shipping or handling charges the pharmacy might add.
