About Providence Preferred

Providence Preferred is a preferred provider organization — a network of physicians, hospitals, and ancillary service providers throughout Oregon, Idaho, and southwest Washington designed to manage the cost, delivery, and quality of health care. You and your family can enjoy substantial savings on a wide variety of quality health care services offered by Providence Preferred through the preferred providers and hospitals listed in this directory. These participating providers and hospitals have agreed to offer their services at special rates to Providence Preferred patients. Make sure you check with your insurance carrier or claims payer to determine the benefit differences between using a preferred and non-preferred provider.

As part of Providence Preferred, you receive quality medical care, plus you have the flexibility to choose your own physicians within our network of nearly 21,000 providers. Should you choose a non-Providence Preferred provider, you may be responsible for additional out-of-pocket expenses.

This directory lists those medical providers participating in Providence Preferred, including our mental health and chemical dependency network, as well as our alternative care network. Please contact your insurer to confirm that you are eligible to access our providers as well as to confirm that an insurance benefit exists. For the most up-to-date list of Providence Preferred providers, please refer to the online provider directory tool at ProvidenceHealthPlans.com/ppo.

You are eligible for Providence Preferred because your employer offers Providence Preferred as an addition to your health benefit plan.

Providence Preferred is a provider network, not an insurance company, and does not pay your claims. Your self-insured employer, union trust, or your employer's insurance company has contracted with Providence Preferred in order to receive discounted medical services.

By using Providence Preferred providers and hospitals you have access to the following benefits:

- Quality health care from some of the area's most respected private practice providers
- A possible higher level of benefits
- Saving money through lower out-of-pocket expenses because participating providers and hospitals agreed to accept preferred rates for services
- Providers and hospitals bill for you
- Prior authorization responsibility for requirements through your group's medical management program. We recommend verifying prior authorization is complete before entering the hospital or a provider's office for a procedure.

If you have an emergency, go to the closest hospital emergency room or dial 911. If the hospital participates with Providence Preferred, plan savings will apply. For minor emergencies, visit a participating provider or urgent care facility. Do not use the hospital emergency room for routine health care.

If a service is not covered by your health plan, you are responsible for paying the provider's usual and customary rate.

If you have questions about your benefits and deductibles, please contact your employer or insurance company. Providence Preferred is not responsible for your benefits and deductibles.

What is a PCP?

A PCP, or Primary Care Provider, can be a doctor, nurse practitioner, physician assistant, pediatrician, or in some instances, a women's health care provider, or internist that will serve as the primary provider for your health care needs. Although most people decide to see a PCP for many of their medical needs, it is not required by Providence Preferred.

Specialist care

A wide variety of specialty providers are listed in the Providence Preferred network. Please check with your insurance carrier or trust to make sure the provider you have selected is covered by your health plan. For the most up-to-date list of Providence Preferred providers, please refer to the online provider directory tool at ProvidenceHealthPlans.com/ppo.

If you have any questions about the providers listed in this directory or other questions not related to benefits and eligibility verification, please contact Providence Preferred customer service at 503-574-7600 or 1-800-793-9338, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. (Pacific time), Monday through Friday, or visit ProvidenceHealthPlans.com/ppo. TTY users should call 711.

Your member ID card should indicate where claims should be sent; however, if claims are priced by Providence Preferred, please send them to:
