

THE EGG HUNT THAT KEEPS ON GIVING

Spring time is officially here and many of us are missing our seasonal traditions. Whatever your family traditions typically are, we hope you are finding creative ways to honor those traditions at home. This project offers one idea for how to honor a tradition in a way that encourages continued family connection.

On the next page you will find cards that can be printed and put into plastic eggs. If you do not have eggs at home, consider hiding the cards by themselves or coming up with another creative way to do the activity. Also consider creating your own cards that fit with what your family likes to do.

Each card lists a “coupon” that the egg finder can redeem to the family at any point in April. Redeeming a card such as “family movie night” means the redeemer gets to select a movie for the family to watch together. It’s okay to let your kids know that the timing of these redemptions will be negotiable, caregivers will help identify a good time in the near future to complete the activity.

After printing or writing out cards that fit for your family, place them in plastic eggs and hide them around the house and/or yard. You can also add eggs with candy or other goodies in them to mix it up. Once hidden, family members can all start egg hunting. If many children are participating, consider giving the younger kids a head start. After all eggs are found, participants can open their eggs and share what coupons they get to redeem this month!

Family Movie Night! I pick the movie.	Cook dinner of my choosing with my caregiver.	Family dance party, I choose the first three songs.	Family board game of my choice.
A family member of my choosing will read a book of my choosing to my family.	One hour of screen time.	I pick a dessert to make or get next time we grocery shop.	One hour of a made up game of my choice.
Family craft of my choosing.	30 minutes of staying up past my bed time!	Make breakfast of my choosing with my caregiver.	I pick a snack of my choosing.
I get to pick out the outfit for my caregiver to wear for a day.	I choose one hour of active activity for my family.	I choose a song and dance moves for my family to choreograph a dance to.	I choose one person I miss to call or video chat with.